Home Collection

Eco by nature

Elegant, yet personal home decoration—we bring you the beautiful, durable natural materials that harmonize with their surroundings and age elegantly. Our collection includes rugs, hides, seat covers, blankets and cushions in a range of colours, shapes and materials. Each piece adds beauty, comfort and stylish hospitality to every home. We select our suppliers carefully and work only with those that meet our high standards of animal welfare, preparation and quality. This means the products are as natural as they possibly can be. They will continue to please for many, many years.

Our eco-friendly sheepskins are conveniently labelled as follows.

This label tells you that the skin is biodegradable and eco-friendly. All the substances in the tanning process and postprocess treatment meet fundamental EU regulations for environmental protection.

Our suppliers use the eco-friendly ECO-TAN™ dyeing process. It consumes at least 30 percent less water than traditional tanning, all of the tanning agents are recycled, and only chemicals with a minimal environmental impact are used.

Concerning animal welfare, we guarantee that none of our suppliers practice any form of mulesing.

Product excellence

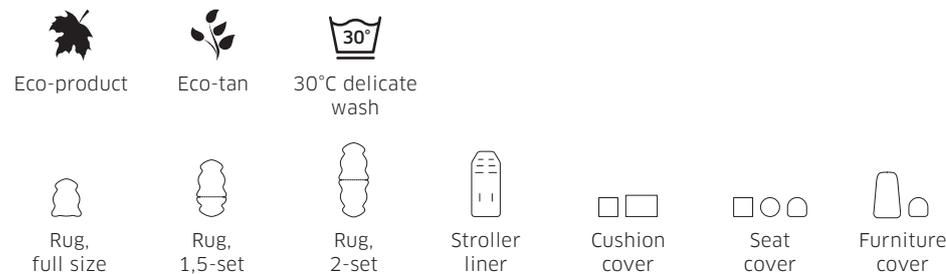

Australia, Brazil and Iceland are three sources of our rugs and hides. Our suppliers are selected primarily for quality, preparation, environmental considerations and craftsmanship. We also need to be absolutely certain of the quality of the animal husbandry. For ease of identification, we mark our products with a seal. It certifies that you can have the same confidence in the product as we have.

This catalogue includes sheepskin, lambskin, goatskin and a variety of cattle hides, in a range of sizes, shapes and colours. We have also extended our collection to include soft and luscious faux fur.

Our story begins over a century ago. Geron Wilhelmsson was born on a farm in 1896 and looked to his surroundings for his livelihood. The Falbygden area had more cattle per square meter than anywhere else in Sweden. With the excellent supply of cowhide and wild animal skins, Geron soon realised how he could make a living.

In 1922 Geron opened his first business in Falköping. News of his fine products soon spread throughout the countryside. Business expanded as demand grew. Talented craftsmen were employed in production.

In 1934 Geron expanded the business to include shops in Gothenburg and Nora. Imports and exports also developed. The third generation runs the company today with retailers all over the world. The passion for the material and the craftsmanship is the same now as it was then.
